How it works

From an app on a phone, to tested software with the evidence to prove it.

A person does this · Happens automatically

All of it is driven from one web page. A person is involved twice — choosing the app, and optionally describing a journey to test. Everything else runs on its own.